Msgr. Harrington Analyzes Man's Need for Religion at Opening R-E Convo

Man's capacity for truth and the natural laws that govern him constitute two basic human characteristics creating a need for religion, Monsignor D. B. Harrington said in an all-school convocation in Student Union yesterday.

Monsignor Harrington, diocesan director of Catholic charities at Helena, spoke on "The Foundation of Religion; Law and Truth" at the campus opening of Religious-Emphasis week.

He defined the first characteristic of natural law, as the rule of conduct prescribed for us in our nature. This "basic, immutable" he said, gives us a reason for being and an end that goes beyond death.

Monsignor Harrington called truth "the link between the external and judgment of the external." The external is the source of knowledge and is followed by judgment. Because man can store past judgments in memory he has reason, but he needs a focus which will direct that reasoning power—religion.

Monsignor Harrington also told the convocation that there is at present a "tremendous revival of interest in religion—particularly among young people. The universities," he continued, "realize religion is basic in education and serves as background for all other subjects."

He added that he hopes Religious-Emphasis week will encourage religious writing, discussion, and meditation.

Publicity-Travel Gives $500 to Drama for Spring Tour of 'Taming of the Shrew'

Five hundred dollars was granted by Publicity-Travel committee to the drama department to take "The Taming of the Shrew" on a state-wide tour next spring, the committee announced to Central board at its regular meeting last Thursday.

Other business conducted related Inter-Fraternity council, min policy, Publicity-Travel committee report, the ice-skating, graduate identification cards, honor system, student interest lists, Sentinel free pages, and entertainment of MSC officers for the game.

When you start going outside budget you are going outside power," said Prof. Edwin H. Briggs in regard to a $100 request by Inter-Fraternity president Boyd Baldwin, Seattle, to send a council member to a national convention. The request was denied by the board.

After a thorough discussion of advice to students by Inter-Fraternity council, board members voted without voting that an unprecedented would be set for campus groups if the request was granted.

A common ground of understanding was reached between board members and Kaimin members when questions of reporting were aired. A rather tense meeting had arisen after the paper published figures which the board felt should be withheld until further investigation. It was formally agreed that students would be given the whole story on important Central board issues, including the background, and that all Central board news in an upcoming meeting is subject to publication.

At O'Hare, vice president, Stevenson, reported officers had met with Pres. Carl McFarland and discussed expanding the rink to key size. Since it is financially possible now, the matter has been tabled until next fall, she said.

Honor system plans will be presented to groups on the campus for discussion, according to Miss O'Hare. In this way, everyone can give their own ideas on what the honor system should be and a more definite goal can be set up, it was reported.

The question of identification cards for graduates will be under advisement until more information is obtained from the University of Colorado, which uses the cards. Joan Bachman, Missoula, pointed out that graduates can, according to the amended constitution, vote and hold office.

A question of service organizations paying for their page in the Sentinel was referred to Publications board. Chuck Jacoby, Helena, Sentinel business manager, stressed "because of a financial shortage, it is impossible to let all service groups have free pages."

Competition in Billings will be between Miss Gaugler and candidates from Billings, Butte, Helena and Great Falls. The winner will be flown to Hollywood for a week's tour of RKO studios, and a screen test, if she desires.

Council Breakfast, Convo Open MSU Religious Emphasis Week

Religious Emphasis Week opened Monday morning with a breakfast for the Religious Emphasis council and guest leaders, and a convocation at which Msgr. D. B. Harrington, Diocesan director of Catholic Charities, Helena, spoke.

Conflict of Power Results in Friction, Says Bernhardt

"Friction comes not from a conflict of ideologies but from a conflict of power," Dr. William H. Bernhardt told approximately 20 students gathered yesterday for the first Religious Emphasis week seminar, held in LA 104 at 4:10 p.m. on "Christianity versus Communism."

Dr. Walter Schnackenberg opened discussion by pointing out as one of the primary differences between Christianity and Communism each's outlook toward the future. "Communism finds its Utopia, eventually, in time," he said, "but Christianity finds its goal outside of time."

The Rev. Robert W. Bertram listed four tenets of Communism which he, as a Christian, feels are inadequate. These are the (1) materialistic interpretation of history, (2) an "unrealistic" happy ending of history within history itself, (3) loss of individual value, and (4) an "abysmal loss to explain what Christians call sin."

"There are no immediate solutions," said Dr. Bernhardt. Later, in a 35 minute question period, Dr. Bernhardt said the West should draw lines of no retreat as a first step then, over a longer period of time, develop a sense of charity, a "reverence for life."

The United Nations are actually divided nations, Dr. Bernhardt said, and "both Christian and Communists are tied up with the modern state." He sees these power blocs as fundamental to world conflict. "The world has been at war since 1914," he said, "and cold war is as bad as hot."

Kester, Plumley Receive 'Dad' Honors

Major A. T. Kester, Oak Ridge, Tenn., father of James Dick of Missoula, received the Dads' Day award for traveling the farthest to attend the Dads' Day celebration last Saturday. J. R. Plumley, Missoula, received the award for being the oldest dad in attendance. The awards were made at the coffee hour in the Student Union Gold room following the Grizzly-Bobcat game.

Plumley at the present time has no children at the University, but two of his sons have attended in past years.

Nearly 100 Dads were at a luncheon in the Florence hotel Saturday and nearly 1,000 state college students staged a pep parade through downtown Missoula. The auto parade, lead by the MSC band, traveled to the campus via Higgins and University avenues.

According to an athletic department estimate, there were nearly 1500 Bobcat fans at the game.

The traveling trophy, which was purchased by Traditions board through ASMSU and their MSC counterparts, was presented to the Grizzlies during the coffee hour. The MSU Jubileers and Arnie Carruthers' combo furnished entertainment for the gathering.

Does MSU Need A Chapel?

Religion—What does it mean to you? If you can't answer this question now, you have an opportunity to do so this week. Nine religious speakers from four major faiths—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and Christian Science—are on campus for your benefit during Religious Emphasis week.

Chapel May Arouse Interest

If religion is important to you, the idea of a campus religious center and chapel may arouse some interest. This idea has been tossed around by students and faculty in the past but no concrete steps have been taken. This year a step is being taken. The executive committee of the pageant-drama, which will be staged in the Field House Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, unanimously agreed that the proceeds should be turned over to the MSU administration as a contribution for construction of a chapel. Pres. McFarland said yesterday the chapel would be given consideration during the next calendar year.

Religion is Background

Msgr. D. B. Harrington said in his convo speech yesterday that "other subjects focus against religion as a background." If you are willing to accept this theory you should also accept the theory that religion is as much a part of education as any other subject you are taking.

If religion is this important it should be centered on the campus, not just surrounding the campus as the Missoula churches do.

We must realize that different denominations worship in various ways. If a chapel is to be successful on a small campus such as MSU's all denominations must agree to use it. The agreement by the pageant-drama executive committee to contribute proceeds to a chapel is indicative of the cooperation that is necessary.

Students Must Cooperate

It is often assumed by those interested in religion that a chapel will be successful because people are naturally religious. Such an assumption cannot be made in this case because students have been able to worship in Missoula churches in the past and may desire to continue doing so without competition from a campus chapel.

Some indication must be made as to how students will accept a chapel. If this indication is favorable a planning committee will have to define the goals of a chapel and the steps leading up to this goal. Will a campus religious center compete with Missoula churches or supplement them? Will its main purpose be to get all students associating with religious activities? When such questions have been unanswered in other schools, the chapel has not been successful.

Education at MSU has advanced rapidly in the past few years with the construction of more efficient buildings and facilities. Religion should not fall behind.—B.N.

New Mexico University Governs Students on Federal Plan

Editor's note: J. D. Coleman, the author of this story, was a student passenger traveling with the Grizzlies on their trip to play the University of New Mexico. Here he discusses the Lobo student government.

The student government at the University of New Mexico is unique, in that it is patterned after the federal system with its three main branches—Legislative, Executive and Judicial. Under this system the associated students virtually control the administration of the school.

The legislative branch is represented by the student senate, which reviews and approves all budgets prepared by the student council before such budgets are adopted and either approves or disapproves all major appointments of the student body president.

The senate is composed of three elected officers from the four classes, and the elected representatives of each student organization that meets the prescribed requirements.

The executive branch is composed of a student body president and vice-president, a student council, and the class officers. The council consists of the president and vice-president and eleven other councilmen. Under the direction of the executive branch are several committees and boards, the most important of which, is the student union committee. This board supervises the use and maintenance of student union facilities and consists of four student members, a chairman, also a student, one faculty member, and two personnel deans.

The judicial power of the associated students is vested in a student court, a student standards committee, and such inferior judicial committees as the student court may create. The student court is composed of one chief justice and four associate justices, with at least one justice to be a member of the College of Law.

All members of the associated students have the right to contest, before the student court, the constitutionality of legislation or rulings of the student government. No student can be considered guilty of infraction of student laws until so proved in judicial hearings.

"He's one of the best teachers I have, but I just haven't learned a thing from him."

Spartan Says, 'Vacation at MSU, There's Skating, Golf, Swimming'

Students at San Jose State college, Calif., apparently think MSU is more of a country club than a university, according to the following article printed in a recent issue of the Spartan Daily:

"Why go on a vacation? Just stay on campus all year 'round. That would be an understandable statement to make at Montana State University. The Montana Kaimin, college newspaper, recently ran an article on plans for recreational development.

"By Christmas, MSU students will be ice skating on a new $50,000 rink. It's going to be an all-season affair fashioned after one at Sun Valley, Ida. In connection with the rink, which will be half the size of a regulation hockey rink, there will be a warming house, a fireplace and landscaping.

"Next on the list of improvements is a $30,000 golf course. The campus course will be nine-holes. And then, there will be a new recreational swimming pool.

"Like we said before, why go on vacation?"

The story was headlined, "It's Party Time at MSU."

Journalism students met on the campus at Montana State University for the first time in 1914.

Majority of '54 ROTC Grads Not Yet in Active Army Duty

BY JAMES FARRELL

Slightly less than half of last year's army ROTC graduates who were given commissions are now on active duty, but those who have gone to many different parts of the country, and to many different branches of the services.

Two of last year's graduates, Elbert Hill, Champion, Neb., and Gerald Guettler, Missoula, were given regular army commissions in the infantry and are now taking further training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Philip Hanson, Missoula, and James Pfusch, Valley City, N. D., who also were army ROTC graduates, decided after graduating that the Air Force was more to their liking and are now taking air cadet training.

Former ASMSU president, Norman Anderson, Chinook, has been deferred from active duty until he can finish medical school at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.

Two of last year's army ROTC graduates, William Demmons, Piltzville, and George Shrum, Buffalo, Wyo., were selected to be given the distinguished military graduate award. Neither Demmons nor Shrum are on active duty at this time.

After graduation last June, the following men were given reserve infantry commissions and are now on active duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.: Robert Carruthers, Ravalli; Byron Lahr, Missoula; Theodore Landkammer, Wallace, Ida.; Eugene Woods and Jimmy Woods, Missoula.

Donald Olson, Butte, and Robert Graves, Billings, were commissioned into the medical service corps following graduation and are now on active duty at Ft. Sam Houston, near San Antonio, Texas.

Charles Joy, Alexandria, Va., was commissioned in the corps of engineers and is now taking training at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Following summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Wash., James Murray, Anaconda, was commissioned in the infantry and is now at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Harry Griffiths, Missoula, was given a reserve commission in the Medical Service corps and is at Ft. Sam Houston. Richard Clearman, Helena, who was given a reserve commission in the Artillery corps, is now on active duty at Ft. Sill, Okla.

All of last year's army ROTC graduates who were given commissions and are not now on active duty will be called by June of 1955, according to the MSU ROTC department.

Military Honorary Marks Vets' Day

Scabbard and Blade, army ROTC advanced military honorary society, observed Veterans' day Thursday with a retreat on the oval at 5:30 p.m. and a banquet at the Florence hotel afterward.

The Scabbard and Blade retreat, the first ever held on this campus, is expected to become a yearly event, coinciding with Veterans' day. In the future, however, Arnold Air society, air force advanced military society, Pershing Rifles, basic honorary, and possibly Sponsor Corps, women's ROTC auxiliary, will participate.

Forester's Ball Has Gay Past Since Old Ranger Days of 12 Students in 1914

By JEANE HERBERT

The Foresters' ball, which will be held in the Field House Jan. 15, is as old as the forestry school which was started in 1914 with 12 students and two faculty members. That spring the first Foresters' Ball was held in the women's gymnasium. The ball was a continuance of the old ranger school dance which the rangers held during the late winter.

Everyone who attended the first ball was dressed, as is still the custom, in clothes appropriate to logging in the Old West.

In 1921, the ball was staged for the only time downtown, in the Union hall. It was brought back to the campus in 1922, and has been held in the men's gymnasium every year since. This year it grew into another bigger stage and will move into the Field House.

In early years, no admission was charged, but holdup men extracted a dollar from each man on the floor after a gun fight between the sheriff's posse and the stick-up men. In past years also, there were prizes for the best and most appropriate costume. Lunch was served during the dance and an old-time bar-room was provided for the occasion.

DON DOUGHERTY RECEIVES ARMY COMMENDATION

Cpl. Donald Joseph Dougherty, of the United States Army Infantry, was awarded a commendation ribbon for exceptionally meritorious service in Japan from Oct. 15, 1953, to Aug. 21, 1954. Lt. Col. Samuel H. Hayes made the presentation in the ROTC building Wednesday. Dougherty is now attending MSU. He is from Butte.

Grandfather never had it this good

Most people today work only two-thirds as many hours as their grandfather did. Yet they earn at least three times as much each day.

If, for example, your grandfather had been on Union Oil's payroll in 1890, he'd have put in an average week of at least 60 hours. For which he'd have received about $2.25 a day.

If—for comparison—you had been with us last year, you'd have averaged $2.25 also. But for an hour's work, not a day's! And you'd have worked only 40 hours a week.

How can Union Oil, or any company, pay more money for less time on the job? Because new and better tools and engineering have radically increased a man's capacity to produce as they shortened his work week.

For every worker at Union Oil there is now available an average of $77,000 worth of these improved tools—trucks, pipelines, wells, refineries. This gives each employee 340% more to work with than in 1890.

For the most part these tools have been purchased with money the shareholder-owners have plowed back into the business out of profits.

Who profits from profits? Everyone does! That's why you get so much more out of life than your grandfather did.

Grizzlies Beat Clock, Bobcats; Spoil Losers' Unbeaten Record

BY J. D. COLEMAN

"The game ended none too soon to suit me. I shudder to think what might have happened if the Bobcats had had the ball for a couple of extra minutes." So said one Grizzly fan, echoing an opinion held by many spectators at Saturday's MSU-MSC game, in which the Grizzlies toppled the Bobcats from the nation's unbeaten ranks, 25-21.

In the third quarter, the Bobcats seemed a thoroughly beaten team after an MSC fumble on the State 19 set up the Silvertips' winning touchdown. But in the fourth quarter, after Dick Heath's third-down pass into the flat was picked off by Bobcat Jim Posewitz and run into the end zone for a score, the boys from the cow college caught fire like a pile of gunpowder. They stopped one Montana drive cold; then took the ball to the University 16 before relinquishing control. They stopped the ensuing Silvertip drive short of the midfield stripe, blocked Heath's punt, and then penetrated to the Montana 32 as the clock ran out.

The Grizzlies wasted no time in scoring their first TD. On the first play run from scrimmage, Murdo Campbell bolted 62 yards to pay dirt on a perfectly executed cross-back play. The senior halfback failed to convert and ended his consecutive string of conversions at eight.

The Bobcats ran the ensuing kickoff back to their 36 and in five plays, moved the ball 64 yards for a score. Harvey Wylie then kicked the first of his three conversions.

The Bobcats struck first in the second quarter to go ahead, 14-6, as Wylie pitched an 18-yard strike to Frank London for the tally. The Grizzlies quickly retaliated by moving the ball 74 yards in a 17-play sustained drive, with Dick Imer scoring from the three.

A MSC fumble on the Cat 20 set up the third Silvertip score. Dale Shupe smashed over from the four to give Montana the lead for the first time since the opening seconds of the game. In the fading moments of the third quarter, Pete Muri recovered a State college miscue on the Bobcat five-yard line and Campbell carried across on the next play.

Halfbacks Campbell and Imer and fullback Shupe provided the offensive fireworks for the Grizzlies. Between them they rushed 282 yards. Campbell, chosen the most valuable back of the game, made 134 yards in 19 plays. Imer had 106 yards in 17 rushes, more than enough to shatter the school's modern rushing record and leaving him just 71 yards shy of a new Skyline record.

The most effective back for the Bobcats was Don Edwards, who suffered a head injury early in the second quarter. The big MSC fullback racked up 99 yards in 10 carries. Harvey Wylie, the Cats' high-scoring halfback ran his scoring total to 105 points for the season, but was held by the big Montana line to just 40 yards in 11 plays.

Senior guard Joe DeLuca was picked as the outstanding lineman of the game. Howard Burke, Bob Miles, and George Samuelson also were effective on the line for Montana.

Diving will be added to the list of events in the annual women's swimming meet this year, according to Shirley Bower, WRA swimming manager. Drawings for lanes in the meet will be held Wednesday, with the qualifying swims conducted Thursday. To be eligible to compete in the qualifying swims and advance to Saturday's finals, girls must complete five, one-half hour practice sessions by the end of tonight's Aquamaid practice.

Teams will be composed of five to seven members, and no single team can have more than three active Aquamaids. This does not include girls tapped into the honorary this fall.

Poor Pass Defense Hands Babes Win

The University of Idaho frosh caught the MSU Cub pass defense napping and completed 10 long pitches to win 25-6 in Moscow Friday. It was the Cubs' only defeat of the season and the Vandal Babes' first victory.

The hosts, trailing by six at the first quarter, tied the contest at halftime, and then pulled out their passing attack in the second half to roll over the visiting Cubs. Most of the completed passes came from the arm of Spokane's Gary Kenworthy, who passed for a total of 241 yards.

Montana's lone score, midway in the first quarter, climaxed a 46-yard drive, with Halfback Tommy Farrell going off tackle for the final 16 yards to paydirt.

The Vandals knotted the game when they recovered a Montana fumble on the Idaho 31. A 59-yard pitch from Kenworthy to Larry Norby resulted in the tally. Idaho hit again midway in the third, as they drove from their 31, with halfback Danny Davis going over tackle for the last few inches.

Kenworthy threw another 59-yard pass to Norby early in the fourth period, making the score 19-6. The winners' final TD came in the waning minutes after a bad Cub punt put the ball in play on the Montana 12. Fullback George Pugh lugged the ball for the last six yards.

Rhoades Paces Grizzlies To Hoop Win over Cubs

Zip Rhoades, flashy sophomore guard, led the Grizzlies to a 79-59 victory over the Montana freshmen in a full-length hoop scrimmage Friday. Rhoades hit two-thirds of his shots during the first half.

Grizzlies (79): Adams 11, Fine 6, Howard 14, Rhoades 27, Monson 3, Winterholler 3, Lucas 7, Burton 6, Stinchfield 2, Bergquist, Colberg.

Cubs (59): Peklewsky 8, Hathaway 8, Sheriff 17, Davies 15, Berzay 2, Hagfelt 5, Aubrey 3, Rhodes 1, Paige, McGivney.
